AWS Certified Solutions Architect - Associate (SAA-C03): Certification Essentials

The AWS Global Footprint

Andru Estes
Principal Author

Linkedin: andru-estes

AWS Regions, Availability Zones, and Edge Locations

AWS Regions, Availability Zones, and Edge Locations

Region: A completely separate geographic area hosting AWS data centers. Provide the greatest possible fault tolerance and stability, and allow you to deploy workloads around the globe

Availability Zone (AZ): An isolated, independent location within a specific Region with their own redundant power, networking, and low-latency connectivity. Physically separated to reduce impacts of disasters

Edge Location: AWS data centers meant to help you deliver services with the lowest latency possible. Closer to end users compared to Regions and AZs. Leverage “Points of Presence” and Regional edge caches

Global Infrastructure - AWS Regions

NOTE: This is not meant to be an identical representation of the world map. Locations are approximate

Global Infrastructure - AWS Regions

NOTE: This is not meant to be an identical representation of the world map. Locations are approximate

Global Infrastructure - AWS Regions

AWS GovCloud Region

NOTE: This is not meant to be an identical representation of the world map. Locations are approximate

Global Infrastructure - AWS Regions

- Current AWS Region
- AWS Region Coming Soon
- AWS GovCloud Region

NOTE: This is not meant to be an identical representation of the world map. Locations are approximate

Global Infrastructure - Availability Zones

us-west-2 Region contains 4 Availability Zones us-west-2a

us-west-2b

us-west-2c

us-west-2d

● Availability Zones

NOTE: This is not meant to be an identical representation of the world map. Locations are approximate

Availability Zone IDs

Abstracted naming conventions for ease of reference

Subnets (4) Info

Actions ▼ Creat

Filter subnets

Name	Subnet ID	State	VPC	Availability Zone	Availability Zone ID	Network border group
–	subnet-08564cbf5ad574c1f	Available	vpc-0936b1cfafc	us-west-2b	usw2-az1	us-west-2
–	subnet-0915ad4fcc6947022	Available	vpc-0936b1cfafe	us-west-2d	usw2-az4	us-west-2
–	subnet-00dca24ce2597edfa	Available	vpc-0936b1cfafe	us-west-2a	usw2-az2	us-west-2
–	subnet-0cd8b01998868a9a7	Available	vpc-0936b1cfafe	us-west-2c	usw2-az3	us-west-2

AZ names seen here will map to different AZ IDs based on AWS accounts

These AZ IDs are the most critical thing to know! They matter most when planning multi-account infrastructure designs